

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
37
38
39
40
41
42
43
44
45
46

Statutes for Spire

Enacted on April 23rd 2017

The following documents constitute the basis for Spire's activity:

- Statutes
- Political platform
- Strategy

§1 Name and Purpose

---

§1.1 Spire is a nationwide youth organization independent of political parties with a target group of young people between 18 and 30 years of age. The Development Fund is Spire's mother organization.

We live in a world of enormous inequality. Many are living in under dire conditions, while others are living a life of abundance. We use our planet's resources to an extent that inflicts injury that is causing damage today, and will severely restrict future generations' options.

§1.2 Spire wants to change the social structures that tend to perpetuate such an unfair distribution and adverse management of economic, social, biological and cultural rights and resources.

The environment and development cannot be seen as separate entities, and an environmentally sustainable development is crucial to Spire's work.

We intend to achieve our goals by providing information, influencing national and global politics, non-violent actions and collaborating with local partner organizations in developing countries.

§2 Membership

---

§2.1 Everyone below the age of 30 can be members of Spire. Members who have paid their fee is considered members for the calendar year. Persons who have not paid their members fee in two following years are no longer considered a member of Spire. All who supports Spire's work is encouraged to become regular donors, especially those above 30 years of age.

§2.2 Rights

All members have the right to speak, submit proposals, and have the right to stand for election at the Annual Grand Meeting. Members who have paid their membership dues no later than one month before the Annual Grand Meeting also have the right to vote. Members who have not paid membership dues more than one month prior to the Annual Grand Meeting may nevertheless be granted the right to vote if those who already have voting rights entitle them to do so.

§ 2.3 Exceptions from §2.1 and §2.2

Persons above the age of 30 year who possess elected positions, centrally or locally, counts as ordinary members below the age of 30 years. Persons above the age of 30 years, whom do not hold an elected position, is encouraged to be active members, but does not have the right to vote in the National Council and the Annual Grand Meeting.

47 §3 Foundational documents

48
49 §3.1 Spire’s foundational documents are as follows: Political platform, Statutes and Strategy.

50
51 §3.2 Those who claim to speak on behalf of Spire have to ensure that the statement does not go
52 against Spire’s foundational documents and adopted policies.

53
54 §3.3 The statutes describe the rules for the way in which Spire is organized and structured. Our 55 political platform describes Spire’s political core areas and the topics Spire is working on. Our 56 strategy document describes Spire’s overall goals for the coming years, and describes how we will 57 reach those goals. All proposed amendments to the basic documents must have been submitted to 58 the editorial committee within a month prior to the Annual Grand Meeting. All amendments that 59 have been submitted within the deadline will be discussed at the Annual Grand Meeting. Members
60 with the right to vote and to submit proposals at the Annual Grand Meeting are entitled to suggest 61 changes to any proposed amendment of the basic documents. Any changes to proposed 62 amendments have to be given to the chair or moderator within a deadline decided by the Annual 63 Grand Meeting. It cannot be a significantly new proposal. A 2/3 majority at the Annual Grand 64 Meeting is required for any change to the basic documents.

65
66 §3.4 The editing committee can make editorial changes to Spire’s foundational documents after 67 every Annual Grand Meeting. Changes must be approved by the Core Group.

68
69 §3.5 Changes in basic documents take effect immediately after the Annual Grand Meeting adopts it.

70
71 §3.6 If there is a dispute over the interpretation of the basic documents, the Core Group may, by a
72 simple majority, adopt an interpretation of the basic documents that will apply until the next Annual 73 Grand Meeting.

74
75 §4 The Annual Grand Meeting

76
77 §4.1 The Annual Grand Meeting is Spire’s highest authority and is held each spring before the end of 78 April. Notice is given at least two months prior to the Meeting, and should contain information about 79 time, place, current basic documents, deadlines for amendments and a provisional agenda. Final
80 notice is given two weeks in advance of the Annual Grand Meeting, and should contain all documents
81 relevant to the Meeting, as well as all submitted proposals for amendments and a final agenda. The 82 moderators at the Annual Grand Meeting cannot be active members of Spire.

83
84 §4.2 At the Annual Grand Meeting following the following matters shall be dealt with:

- 85 1. Constituting the Annual Grand Meeting
- 86 2. Annual report of the Core Group (including financial report)
- 87 3. Handling of the accounting and the budget
- 88 4. Amendments to the statutes
- 89 5. Amendments to the political platform
- 90 6. Working program/annual goals
- 91 7. The Annual Grand Meetings formal approval of new local chapters
- 92 8. Choosing campaign themes
- 93 9. Resolutions
- 94 10. Honors of extraordinary members
- 95 11. Election of:
  - 96 ● Leader
  - 97 ● Political deputy

- 98 ● Organizational deputy
- 99 ● Up to two ordinary Core Group members
- 100 ● One representative for each committee
- 101 ● Representative for the International committee
- 102 ● Coordinator of the food committee
- 103 ● Coordinator of the climate committee
- 104 ● Coordinator of the trade committee
- 105 ● Coordinator for a urban committee
- 106 ● Head of the nomination committee, as well as two members
- 107 ● Head of the editorial committee, as well as two members
- 108 ● Accountant

109
110 §4.3 The nomination committee recommends one person for each position. The nomination
111 committee should also submit a comprehensive account of the composition. If there is more than 112 one candidate, or if anyone requests that it be done so, then the election must be held by written 113 ballot.

114
115 §4.4 If several candidates want to run for the same position they can propose a motion from the 116 floor. The nomination committee has to inform potential candidates about their right to propose a
117 motion from the floor. They can deliver a written motion within a deadline decided by the Annual 118 Grand Meeting, about why they want to be elected that should be distributed before the election.
119 The candidates can also hold a short speech.

120
121 §4.5 The leader of Spire is elected for two years. The leader can run for reelection for one additional 122 year at the time.

123
124 § 4.6 If the election to any position results in a tie, a new round of voting is conducted. If a new tie is 125 the result, the election is settled by drawing lots.

126
127 §4.7 An extraordinary Annual Grand Meeting is to be held if the Core Group (by a majority of 2/3),
128 the National Council (by a majority of 2/3), 2/3 of the local chapters, or at least 1/3 of Spire's
129 members demand it. Only those issues that necessitated the extraordinary Annual Grand Meeting in 130 the first place will be dealt with at that meeting. Relevant documents for an extraordinary Annual 131 Grand Meeting are to be sent out three weeks prior to the meeting.

132 133 §5 The National Council

---

134
135 §5.1 The National Council is the local chapters' organizational and political forum, with decision
136 authority over the Core Group and during the Annual Grand Meeting. At the National Council the 137 local chapters can make connections, exchange experiences, discuss cooperation, decide on 138 resolutions and other decisions, and speak to the Core Group on behalf of their members.

139
140 §5.2 The National Council consists of two delegates from each local chapter, as well as Spires Leader
141 and organizational deputy. If the organizational deputy cannot go, the Core Group can elect a deputy 142 with voting rights before the final agenda is distributed. New local chapter are formally approved by 143 the Annual Grand Meeting, but the National Council may incorporate new local chapters and give 144 them full rights at the National Council until the next Annual Grand Meeting. The National Council is 145 Spire's highest organ in between the Annual Grand Meetings. There shall be at least two National 146 Councils every year. The time and place will be decided during the year in connection with the fall
147 and winter seminars. The local chapters and the organizational deputy cooperate to set the date in 148 good time before the meetings.

149

150 §5.3 The National Council is subordinate to the Annual Grand Meeting and bound by Spire’s basic 151 documents.

152
153 §5.4 At a National Council, the following should be dealt with:

- 154 ● Constitution of the National Council
- 155 ● The Core Group’s report on organizational activities
- 156 ● The Core Group’s report on the financial situation
- 157 ● Reports of local chapter activity and exchange of experiences
- 158 ● Resolutions

159
160 §5.5 Each local chapter should send two delegates to the National Council. Each delegate has a vote.
161 The leader has a double vote if the vote is equal. The chairperson cannot have the right to vote at the 162 National Council.

163
164 §5.6 The National Council constitutes a quorum when 2/3 of Spire’s local chapters are represented.
165 Decisions can be made by a simple majority unless otherwise prescribed.

166
167 §5.7 The organizational deputy is responsible for issuing a summons to the National Council. The 168 initial notice must be given at least four weeks prior to the date of the meeting. Relevant documents
169 must be sent out at least two weeks in advance. All members of Spire have the right to attend, speak,
170 and submit proposals at the National Council. Matters relevant to the agenda shall have been given 171 to the organizational deputy before relevant documents are sent out. The National Council cannot 172 make decisions on miscellaneous issues or other proposals that have been submitted after the 173 deadline.

174
175 §5.8 The executive committee are obligated to attend the National Council. The Core Group is 176 encouraged to attend.

177
178 §5.9 An extraordinary National Council may be called if a 2/3 majority of the Core Group or half
179 Spire’s local chapters requests it.

180
181 §6 The Core Group

182
183 §6.1 The Core Group is Spire’s central board. It is elected for one year at a time at Spire’s Annual 184 Grand Meeting, and is the highest organ between Spire’s Annual Grand Meetings and the National 185 Councils. It takes effect after a period of overlapping and training lasting 30 days after the conclusion
186 of the Annual Grand Meeting. The Core Group shall consist of minimum eight and maximum 12
187 members. The Core Group consists of a leader, a political deputy, an organizational deputy, a
188 campaign leader, and up to eight other Core Group members. The other members shall include one
189 representative from each political committee, and an international representative. The coordinators
190 serves as deputy for the representatives. All members of the Core Group have the right to vote.

191
192 Local chapter leaders have the right to speak and to submit proposals at all Core Group meetings.
193 The Core Group constitutes a quorum when at least five of those entitled to vote are present.
194 Decisions of the Core Group are reached by simple majority. In the event of a tie, the leader has a
195 double vote. If the leader is not present, the deciding vote goes to the political deputy. The Core
196 Group’s venue is Oslo.

197
198 §6.2 The Core Group can decide to close a meeting by simple majority if a sensitive matter is being 199 treated, as long as the reason for closing the meeting is made public.

200

201 §6.3 If a committee’s representative or coordinator wishes to withdraw, the committee concerned
202 should propose a new representative. This representative has to be approved by the Core Group. If a
203 member of the Core Group resigns, the Core Group may supplement itself. If a member of the 204 Executive Committee resigns, the nomination committee shall make a proposal to the Core Group,
205 which then supplements itself.

206
207 §6.4 The leader is Spire’s public face, will be represented on the board of the Development Fund,
208 coordinate the organization, and lead of the executive committee.

209
210 §6.5 The leader and political deputy is responsible for Spire’s representation in different professional 211 and political contexts. The political deputy leads Spire’s policy meetings.

212
213 §6.6 The organizational deputy is responsible for the Annual Grand Meeting and the National
214 Council, and shall make sure that the editorial committee and the nomination committee follow
215 through on their tasks, as well as other organizational activities. The organizational deputy is 216 responsible for membership recruitment. The Organizational deputy is responsible for following up 217 the local chapters, communication between the local chapters and the core group, arranging the 218 National Council and updating the guidelines for the local chapters.

219
220 §6.7 The representatives of the committees are responsible for the flow of information between 221 their political committees and the Core Group. This means, in practice, that they provide updates on 222 the committee’s activities at the Core Group meetings and update their respective committees on 223 relevant matters from Core Group meetings.

224
225 §6.8 The international committee is responsible for cooperating with Spire’s international partners
226 and making sure that the voice from the South is incorporated in Spire’s work.

227
228 §6.9 If the Core Group has any regular Core Group members, they are to function as a resource for 229 the Core Group through sharing experiences valuable to the Core Group’s work and/or by allocating
230 some of their work time for the benefit of the Core Group. The Core Group may have up to two 231 regular Core Group members.

232
233 §6.10 The Core Group is the employer of Spire’s secretariat. The Core Group approves salary and 234 employment percentage.

235
236 §6.11 The leader, political deputy, organizational deputy and organizational secretary constitute 237 Spire’s executive committee, where the leader, political deputy and organizational deputy have the 238 right to vote. The executive committee is in charge of Spire’s daily operations.

239
240 §6.12 The campaign leader has the primary responsibility for Spire’s main campaign and leads the 241 campaign committee.

242
243 §6.13 The coordinators of the political committees are professionally and politically responsible for 244 their committee, shall coordinate the committees work, shall secure visibility and actuality and work
245 for the committees long term development.

246
247 §7 Local chapters

248
249 §7.1 Three or more of Spire’s members can establish a local chapter, as long as a leader and a
250 financial manager are elected.

251
252 §7.2 Each local chapter must elect a leader and a financial manager.

253
254 §7.3 Local chapters are subject to Spire’s basic documents. Local chapters may voice opinions on 255 behalf of their own local chapter.

256
257 §7.4 All members of Spire automatically become members of the local chapter that operates in each
258 member’s local community. It is possible to opt out of being a member of a local chapter. If there is
259 no local chapter in the member’s geographic proximity, the member will come under the Core Group
260 as a support member until a local chapter is established to which the member in question can be 261 transferred.

262

263 §8 The political committees

---

264
265 §8.1 The committees are Spire’s experts in their fields. The committees work to develop Spire’s
266 policies, highlight Spire in politics and media within their fields and build competence in the 267 organization. Spire’s political and disciplinary committees are:

- 268 ● The Climate Committee
- 269 ● The Trade Committee
- 270 ● The Food Committee
- 271 ● The City Committee
- 272 ● The International Committee

273

274 §8.2 If the establishment of a new committee becomes relevant between two Annual Grand
275 Meetings the National Council can approve these and choose a coordinator and representative.
276 These are then equal to the other committees until the next Annual Grand Meeting where the new 277 committees can be incorporated in the statutes or terminated.

278

279 §9 Committees

---

280

281 §9.1 The editorial committee consists of three members elected at the Annual Grand Meeting. The 282 Core Group may supplement the committee if a member withdraws or in case of need. The editorial
283 committee is responsible for collecting and organizing the proposals to the basic documents before
284 the Annual Grand meeting and revising the basic documents after changes enacted by the Annual 285 Grand Meeting by June 31st.

286

287 §9.2 The nomination committee is elected at the Annual Grand Meeting and shall consist of three 288 members. The Core Group may supplement the committee if a member withdraws or in case of 289 need. At the Annual Grand Meeting the nomination committee is to pass on general
290 recommendations to Spire’s centrally elected positions.

291

292 §10 Campaign

---

293

294 §10.1 Each year Spire holds a campaign. The theme for the campaign are chosen at the Annual Grand 295 Meeting. The committees and local chapters are strongly encouraged to suggest at least one
296 campaign theme each at the Annual Grand meeting. The committee or local chapter that proposed 297 the theme chosen by the Annual Grand Meeting is also responsible for electing a campaign leader as 298 soon as possible after the work with the campaign has begun. The campaign committee recommends 299 their leader to the Core Group which supplement themselves. The campaign leader is a member of 300 the Core Group until the campaign is finished. The Core Group and the campaign committee shall 301 include all of Spire’s local chapters in the planning and implementation of the campaign.

302

303 §11 Collaboration with the Development Fund

---

304

305 §11.1 Spire is the Development Fund 's youth organization. A close collaboration with the 306 Development Fund is positive when it creates positive synergies for both organizations. The 307 collaboration between Spire and the Development Fund is formalized in monthly cooperation
308 meetings and in a separate perennial cooperation agreement.
309

310 §11.2 Spire is represented on the board of the Development Fund by its leader.
311

312 §12 Economy

---

313 §12.1 Spire has an independent economy. The Annual Grand Meeting approves the accounting and 314 the budget. The Core Group follows up on the Annual Grand Meetings decisions and has the 315 responsibility for Spires economy. The core group is obliged to be updated on Spires economic 316 situation and development at all times.
317

318 §12.2 Any members of the organization has the duty to report to the Core Group is they suspect
319 economic crimes. It is the Executive Committees responsibility to investigate and the Core Groups
320 responsibility to consider to press charges.
321

322

323 §13 Gender representation

---

324

325 §13.1 Spire will strive to be represented by maximum 60% of the same gender in all fora.
326

327 §14 Disciplinary action

---

328

329 §14.1 Organizational discipline of a member can be carried out by Spire's Core Group through 330 warnings and/or exclusion from Spire. Reasons for disciplining a member of Spire include acting
331 against Spire's objects or basic documents, blocked or impeded Spires work, acted unethically, or 332 otherwise harmed Spire's reputation. Before disciplinary action is taken, however, the member
333 should be given the chance to mount a defense to the Core Group. The member that is being 334 disciplined can request to get their case processed in the National Council. The National Council can 335 overrule the Core Croups decision with a 2/3 majority. If an elected representative neglects its position
336 over time, the Executive Committee can give that person a warning. If the warning is not taken note
337 the Core Group can ask the person concerned to withdraw from their position.
338

339

339 §15 Language

---

340

341 §15.1 To include international members, Spire will offer sufficient written information in both English
342 and Norwegian.
343

344

344 §16 Partners

---

345

346 §16.1 Spire shall find international partners that share Spires visions and political goals. New formal
347 cooperation partners shall be approved by the Core Group. Before entering any concrete project
348 there must be made a contract which specifies guidelines and expectations. Cooperation projects
349 shall not be used for one's own financial gain.
350

351

351 §17 Member Awards

---

352

353 § 17.1 Spires members are the main reason why Spire makes a difference in the fight for a more 354 sustainable world. Therefore it is important for us to have an organizational culture which 355 appreciates members. The following awards are awarded at the Annual Grand Meeting:

356 ●Spire Veteran

357 Awarded to members that have been active for 3 years, or held elected positions for two years. Spire
358 veterans are always invited Spires events, and serve as a resource group that new members may 359 consult. Everyone who meets the criteria become veterans.

360 ● Honorary Membership

361 Honorary Memberships is Spire’s most coveted distinction. Honorary members shall be nominated
362 by other members for making an extraordinary contribution to the organization. The nomination
363 should be reported to the Core Group at least six month before the Great Meeting. The Core Group
364 makes the final assessment and recommends the awards to the Annual Grand Meeting.

365

366 §18 Disbanding

367

---

368 §18.1 Spire can only be disbanded if disbandment is subsequently passed in two successive Annual 369 Grand Meetings held at least six months apart. At disbandment any excess funds should go to Spires
370 purposes. It is the Core Groups responsibility to distribute the funds.